Read the questions ex.6 p.80 and try to complete them from memory. Do the exercise into your notebook.*

Presenter Welcome back to our sports quiz, Quiz It! And the next round is called 'Beat the bell'. Our two contestants must answer their question before they hear this sound. You get one point for a correct answer. If you don't answer before the bell, or if your answer is incorrect, the other contestant can answer for a bonus point. Tim, are you ready to beat the bell?

Tim Yes, Paul, I'm ready.

Presenter Mina, are you ready to beat the bell?

Mina Yes, Paul, I'm ready to go.

Presenter Fantastic, that's what I like to hear. And the first question is for you, Mina. Where will the 2020 Olympic Games be held?

Mina Err, Tokyo!

Presenter ... is the correct answer! And the next question is for you, Tim. How many times has the Wimbledon Men's Singles final been won by Roger Federer?

Tim Errr, eight?

Presenter ... is the correct answer! Mina, your next question. How often are the World Swimming Championships held?

Mina Err, I think, is it ...?

Presenter Time's up, Mina! Tim, for a bonus point, how often are the World Swimming Championships held?

Tim I think it's every two years.

Presenter A bonus point for Tim and it's also your turn. When was the first Tour de France organised?

Tim Oh, err, I don't know, err, 1910?

Presenter ... is the wrong answer. Mina?

Mina No idea. 1950?

Presenter No, the first Tour de France was held in 1903. And that's the end of 'Beat the bell'.
